

I prefer that the Wisconsin no-call list stay the same as it is, only allowing charities to call people in their homes. In my opinion, being disturbed multiple times a day and late into the evening by someone trying to sell you something is harassment, and shouldn't be allowed.